

AIEC 2021 Virtual Attendee Hub Terms of Use

By logging in to the Australian International Education Conference 2021 ('AIEC 2021') Virtual Attendee Hub ('VAH'), you acknowledge and agree to these terms and conditions of participation.

These terms and conditions for the VAH are in addition to, and not a replacement for, the other policies in place for AIEC 2021. Where there is a conflict between these terms and conditions and any other policy for AIEC 2021 then, where it applies to the VAH, these terms and conditions will prevail to the extent of such conflict.

Please visit <https://aiec.idp.com/policies> for full details on our policies, including our Privacy Policy, Code of Conduct, Website Terms of Use and Terms and Conditions of attending AIEC 2021.

Access:

- Your registration entitles you to access the VAH to watch sessions live (where available) and access on-demand content for up to three months after the Conference.
- IDP Education Ltd (ACN 117 676 463) ('IDP') or Think Business Events (ABN 66 121 965 428) ('Think Business Events') reserves the right to change any and all aspects of the virtual offering including program, speakers, themes, content, moderators, timings and availability of on-demand content.
- You agree not to sell, trade, transfer or share your access link and/ or code, unless approved prior by IDP or Think Business Events.
- You may not record or broadcast audio or video sessions of the Conference.
- There may be other content and links on the virtual attendee hub that are provided by third parties. IDP and Think Business Events take no responsibility for the accuracy, relevance or currency of the content or links.
- IDP and Think Business Events may cancel, postpone, or change your access to the VAH in the event AIEC 2021 is cancelled, postponed, or changed in any way.

Profile and visibility settings:

- Your VAH profile is listed in the Attendee List and is visible to all other attendees, including delegates, sponsors and exhibitors.
- You can change your profile to be hidden on the attendee list. However other delegates, sponsors or exhibitors will still be able to contact you and request appointments via the appointments feature of the VAH. You can decline any requests.
- Your profile is editable, and you are responsible for what remains visible. You are able to edit your profile at any time.
- When asking a question online, your name will be identified with the question, regardless of whether you have a visible profile. You may elect to make your question anonymous by selecting this option when submitting your question.
- It is recommended that you update your profile with a photo and short bio.

Professional conduct:

- Whilst using the VAH, you must behave in a professional manner, respecting other people's views and opinions expressed through online chats, questions and answers, appointments, etc.
- No swearing, profane, abusive or insulting language or communications will be tolerated.
- No disruptive or unethical behaviour will be tolerated.

- IDP and Think Business Events each reserve the right to cancel your registration and access to the VAH if, in its sole discretion, it determines that your participation or behaviour creates a disruption or hinders the Conference experience of other attendees.
- The views and opinions expressed by others are not endorsed by IDP or Think Business Events.
