

Australian Government
Department of Education and Training

China in Focus – the education relationship

Christopher Lawson
First Secretary (Education and Research)
Australian Embassy Beijing

The Australia-China education relationship

China is:

- Australia's largest source of international students and education revenue
 - The most popular destination for students under NCP, and second most popular mobility destination
 - The most important partner in terms of university agreements
 - Home to almost 300 joint Sino-Australian programs
 - Australia's third largest research partner
-

Chinese students globally

Proportion of tertiary students from China in each country (2014)

Proportion of tertiary students from China by country (2013)

Data extracted on 21 Sep 2016 08:48 UTC (GMT) from UIS.Stat

Chinese enrolments in Australia

STUDENT NUMBERS

136,097

Chinese students in Australia in 2015

Chinese students make up the largest share of all the international students in Australia

HIGHER EDUCATION COURSES

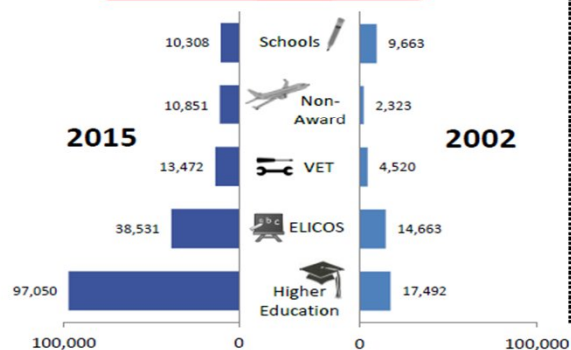

73%
study an ELICOS course first

Australian Government
Department of Education and Training

EDUCATION SECTORS

HIGHER EDUCATION QUALIFICATIONS

57%
of all enrolments were in higher education

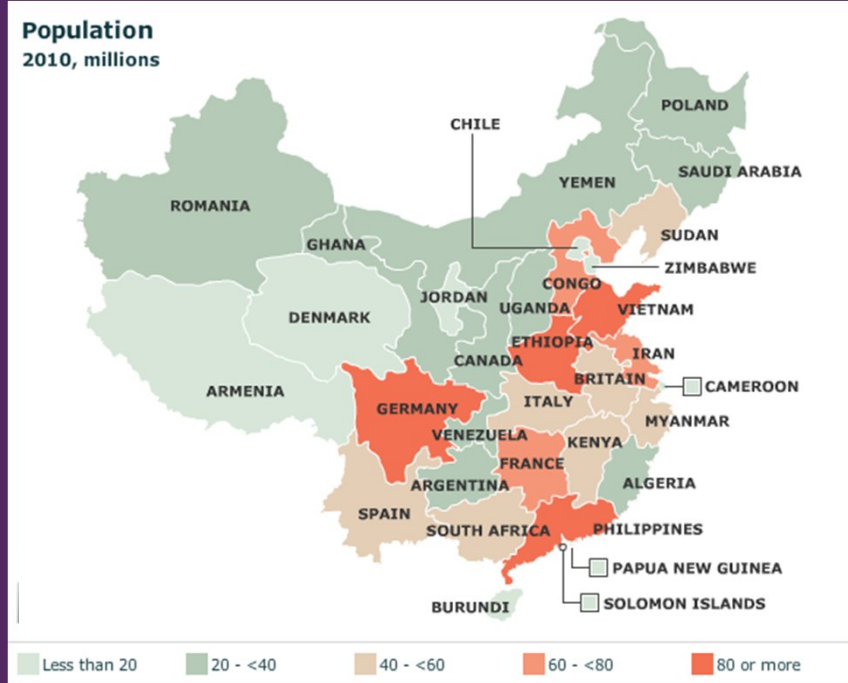

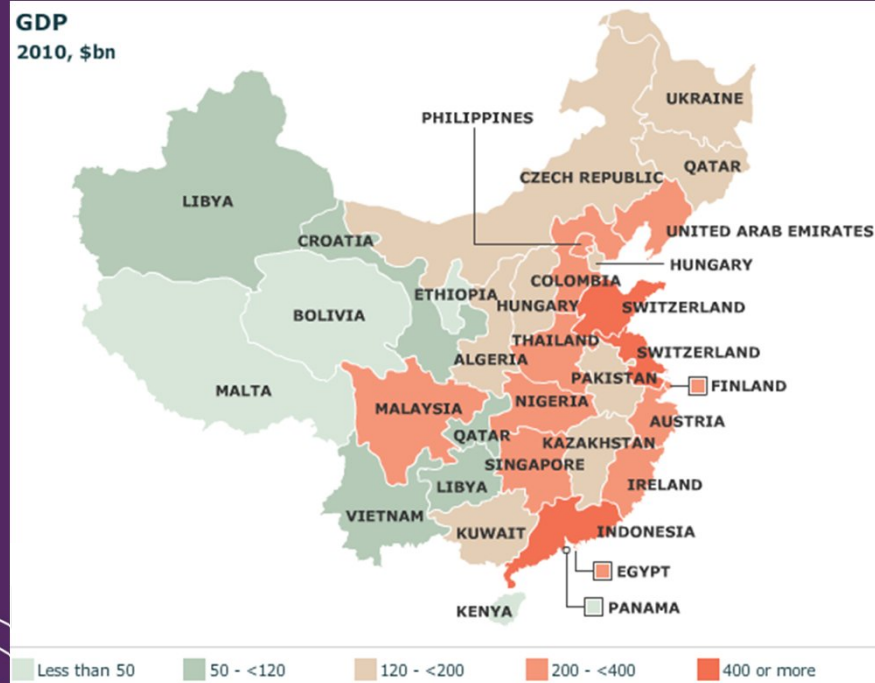

STATES AND TERRITORIES

All data in this snapshot is from the Department of Education and Training at:
<https://international.education.gov.au/research/international-student-data/pages/default.aspx>

China's education market in perspective

http://www.economist.com/content/chinese_equivalents

Recent policy updates

- China's international education strategy
 - Establishing Chinese campuses overseas
 - China's World Class 2.0
 - Transnational education
 - Online education in China
-

Satisfaction with studying in Australia

- Reputation, quality and safety are main factors for choosing Australia
- 89% of Chinese higher education student respondents satisfied with overall experience
- 88% satisfied with living in Australia
- 86% satisfied with study experience

International Student Survey 2014

Engaging with Alumni

Thank you

澳大利亚教育官方微博
扫描下方二维码，关注我们

