I would like to respectfully acknowledge the Aboriginal people as the Traditional Custodians of the land on which we meet.

I would like to pay my respects to the Elders past and present, and I would like to extend my respect to any Aboriginal people who are present here today.
Our geography informs our business decisions.
Anticipate opportunities linked to our strengths.
Build relationships – here to learn not to tell.

3 pronged strategy:
1. Ensure own students have international experience.
2. Deliver non-accredited training in country.
3. Short-term study tours in western NSW.

TAFE Western’s market approach – sharpen the focus.
Outbound Mobility – learner-centred approach

• Regional and remote context – important for own students to have international experience
• Australian Government support for VET students – establishment grant 2015
• Build cultural competence
• Open up potential job experiences – borderless world
• Establish relationships with industries working in and demonstrate reciprocation
The journey commences – OMP students’ first trip OS?
Welcome TAFE Western Institute Delegation of Dubbo, Australia
Nursing in China
Master Classes – Australian edge

China = government supported emerging VET sector
Traditionally theory-based learning vs Australian applied learning and demonstration of practical skills
Anticipate changes that inform growth in training needs: emerging services industry & community services sector
Master class approach: non-accredited training to skills gaps

- Class-based and hands on practical (new experience for students)
- Live in community & supported by small community
- Cultural experiences
TAFE Western’s experience – innovative approach

✓ Our geography informs our business decisions – traditional international approach not viable so no point trying to do the same as others

✓ Build relationships – sought cultural advice re doing business in China

✓ Support of Austrade important for support and to build connections

✓ Find right partner/s with synergies with us

✓ Align approach to emerging sectors
